LEADERSHIP, ACTIVITIES, AND SERVICE

Qobalt Capital

January 2021 – Present

Co-Founder & Chief Investment Officer

- I launched an investment fund with my business partner and employ a mixture of tactical momentum strategies, Elliott Wave Theory, DeMark Indicator analysis, and other forms of basic technical analysis to allocate funds in a portfolio in combination with a quantitative model I built using SectorSurfer's strategy creation software.

Better Than Bitcoin Podcast (YouTube, Spotify, Apple Podcasts)

October 2019 – Present

Host & Creator

- I started this podcast to post Bitcoin market analyses to keep a video record of my thought process before, during, and after every swing trade to document my learning process.
- Through doing this podcast, I have improved my skills in filming, writing scripts, technical analysis techniques, video editing with Adobe Premiere, and creating album artwork with Photoshop.
- Through doing this podcast, I have learned and explored how to use social media and advanced marketing tools to push my content out there.

My Learning Process of Coding to Outperform the Stock Market

July 2020 – Present

Blog Writer - <https://algotocodingprocess.blogspot.com>

- I gave myself a challenge to create an automated trading strategy using Python over the summer of 2020 and wrote blog posts to document my learning process.
- One of the key things I learned was using tactical momentum-based strategies to create a program that invests in an ETF with the most momentum out of a selection of ETFs to effectively create a strategy that goes beyond the efficient frontier.
